

C4i awarded new contract valued at over $1.2m

- C4i awarded contract from Singapore Technologies for the supply of a Defence command and control system.
-

27 June 2008: The Board of LongReach Group Limited today announced that C4i Pty Ltd, a wholly owned subsidiary of the LongReach Group, has been awarded a contract with Singapore Technologies for the manufacture and supply of a military grade communications system for the Singapore military.

“This order confirms C4i’s strong standing in the defence command and control market, with reference sites in Asia, USA, Europe, the Middle East and Australia. To fulfil this order, C4i has offered its Generation III product which is currently in use by active deployed military services. The offered solution provides future growth potential as the system interfaces to legacy, current and future technologies” said Peter Harrison, General Manager of C4i Pty Ltd.

The system will be delivered early next calendar year to Singapore Technologies. This order has been received at a time when C4i is about to deliver its tenth mobile communications system for the United States Air Force.

This is C4i’s first order from Singapore, with reference sites already in Europe, Middle East, Australasia, and the Americas.

LongReach Group Limited (ASX Code: LRG) is a leading ASX-listed provider of integrated information and communications technology based products and services to the defence, security and intelligence sectors, as well as to government, telecommunications and corporate customers, both locally and internationally

LongReach is currently focused on expanding its systems and support capability within these sectors.

For personal use only